Educating in the Spirit of St. Elizabeth Ann Seton

COMMITMENT to COMMUNITY

“ We know that we will get through these ever-changing times the same way we always do at Seton – through prayer, commitment and the incredible support from our entire Seton community.”

KATHY ALLEN CIARLA '87

KAREN KLUG WHITE '92

Dear Alumnae, Parents, Students and Friends,

In these ever-changing times, the Seton community continues to prove that through prayers, determination, hard work and strength, we always prevail. We are proud to have offered our students in-person learning throughout the entire 2020-2021 school year, and we are excited to be back again in-person this school year. We handled challenges throughout this past year, and we couldn't be more proud and grateful to our students, faculty, staff and community.

We are always inspired by the commitment of our alums who are dedicated to making the community a better place. It's even more special when their career paths have led them back to Seton. Read about the commendable careers in law enforcement of Patty Ries Hoffbauer '81, Kelly Herman Raker '81, Ann Lally '92 and Shannon Wahoff Heine '95 in our cover story on pages 4-7.

This past spring our amazing alumnae stepped up once again to help Seton High School become back-to-back champions for the Girls' Schools Unite campaign! You helped us to raise $150,000 that will benefit current and future Saints. Thank you!

Take a glimpse under the sea to find out what it is like to swim and study Atlantic spotted dolphins with Cassie Volker Rusche '09. You can read about her work and passion for learning, documenting and teaching others on pages 16 and 17.

We welcomed 190 new freshmen to the new school year, and our halls are energized with so much spirit! We are proud of the excellent academic rigor offered here at Seton, and we are excited for all of our students to embrace the exceptional, well-rounded Seton experience that focuses on the whole student – mind, body and spirit. Thank you for your prayers and support as we continue to live out the mission of the Sisters of Charity and our patroness, St. Elizabeth Ann Seton.

Thank you!

SETON

Sponsored by the Sisters of Charity of Cincinnati

Seton High School, a Catholic community in the tradition of St. Elizabeth Ann Seton, through the mission of the Sisters of Charity of Cincinnati, develops a diverse population of young women for a life of faith, service and leadership and engages them in achieving academic excellence in a college preparatory environment.

COMMITMENT to COMMUNITY

The spirit of serving is a common thread that can be found among many Seton alums. That sincere devotion to community is why it should come as no surprise that some of Cincinnati's finest are also Seton Saints. With decades of experience and integrity, Patty Ries Hoffbauer '81, Kelly Herman Raker '81, Ann Lally '92 and Shannon Wahoff Heine '95 have each found themselves back in the halls of Seton for one reason or another. As members of our security team or as officers working at one of our special events, we are blessed that their paths have led them here, and we are proud of their commitment to the entire Cincinnati community.

Shannon, who was just recently promoted to Lieutenant with the Cincinnati Police Department and assigned to District 2, may have been subtly steered to this career early in her life. One of her grade school soccer coaches was Jim Robb, retired Cincinnati Police Officer and current Seton Security Team Director. "He helped me to find my talents and lead me to where I am today, and he continues to drive me to be better – not just for myself but for others," said Shannon. "Without his coaching expertise on the soccer field or his fatherly love and wisdom in life, I always wonder where I would be. 'Service to others above self.' He is someone I may be forever indebted to and for whom I am beyond thankful."

Life wasn't an easy road during Shannon's high school years. She spent most of her time outside of school hours working nearly full time so that she could pay her own tuition. "I still made time for the music program, Latin Club and Pep Club; and I was also part of the SUPER Club and the Medicine Show, both of which were designated to teach youth about the consequences of alcohol and drug abuse," said Shannon, whose own father struggled with alcohol abuse. "He eventually stopped drinking, but I still lived through that lifestyle, and I have chosen not to repeat nor allow others to endure it," she added. "If I can sway one or two into walking away from the hardships it would be worth it.” She was inspired by S. Rita Agnese Schoenherr and S. Mary Dolores Schneider. “Sister Rita encouraged us to say ‘no’ to peer pressure and instilled in us a belief that we could change the world one student at a time,” Shannon said. “Sister Mary Dolores was such a strong, smart and determined woman who taught me to make decisions that were best for me and not what is expected of me. She showed me the need to pay attention to the love that surrounds me in life and sometimes it is best to endure the things we cannot change.”

Shannon started out as a police cadet right after high school in addition to focusing on college. “This program was designed to give those interested in a career in law enforcement an opportunity to work and train in many aspects of policing while also pursuing a college education,” said Shannon, who attended Xavier University at that time for her associate’s degree. Shannon married her high school sweetheart, John Heine (LaSalle ’94), and she jokes that he became her ‘partner in crime’ as they both entered into the police cadet program together. In 1998, Shannon entered into the Police Academy and was assigned to District 3 upon graduation. She climbed the ranks from specialist to sergeant to lieutenant, and she has held many jobs over her career that span from specializing in drugs and narcotic investigations to burglaries, felonious assaults, robberies and shooting offenses.

Shannon and John have two daughters, Megan Heine ’23, and Emily Heine Ward ’13, who is also a Cincinnati Police Officer married to a Cincinnati police officer. Megan and Emily have certainly been inspired by Shannon. “The world needs change makers and truth seekers and to know that there is still good that surrounds us,” said Shannon. “I want to be a change maker – a reminder of the good.”

Leadership and relationship-building are opportunities that Patty Ries Hoffbauer ’81 gravitated towards while she was in high school. She participated in tennis, swimming and soccer; and as an alum she was voted into Seton’s Athletic Hall of Fame. Teachers, coaches and administration had a lasting impact on Patty. “Sister Kathryn Ann Connelly was a positive influence on me. She frequently engaged with students in the hallways and held students accountable. The teachers who were also my coaches, like Mr. Steve Aylward and Mr. Tom Louis, influenced me to be my best both on the field and in the classroom,” said Patty.

“During high school is when I started to become interested in my career,” said Patty, who added that those dreams were largely influenced by popular television shows at the time. And while her career hasn’t turned out exactly like “Charlie’s Angels”, it is pretty evident that it has turned out even better. Patty is currently a member of the Seton Security Team. Her responsibilities include monitoring the security cameras, making rounds, helping with drop-off and dismissal traffic, keeping abreast of school situations around the country and being certified, trained and prepared to deal with a variety of possible situations. Patty got her bachelor’s degree in Criminal Justice from the University of Cincinnati prior to becoming a Cincinnati Police Officer. During her 25 year career with the CPD, she answered calls for service and was assigned to the Police Academy for a number of years where she assisted in training the new recruits. “I was also assigned to the Personal Crimes Unit which investigated child abuse and neglect cases as well as sexual assault. These cases I investigated had an impact on me,” she said. Patty recalls a case where the sexually assaulted victim was an elderly woman who she became particularly close with during the investigation. “I was honored to have gotten to know such a sweet lady and to have been a part of an eventual arrest which took place based on DNA evidence,” she said, “but I was sad for the unfortunate events that brought the two of us together.” She was also part of three separate bank robbery incidents that involved locating and arresting the suspect. “Those are the kinds of arrests that you are proud to be a part of and remember,” she added. “My favorite part of my job was going out and doing the best I could while trying to make a positive impact on someone else’s life.”

Patty and her husband, Bruce, who is also a retired police officer, have been married for 30 years. They have two children. Their daughter, Katie, has been a police officer for five years, and their son, Jake, has been a Cincinnati Firefighter for three years.

One of Patty’s classmates, Kelly Herman Raker ’81, also found herself on the path to community commitment while she was at Seton. “Sister Kathryn Ann was a class act who was fair and usually had a smile on her face,” said Kelly. “She had our backs and I never wanted to disappoint her.” Kelly was involved in Series at Eight and made life-long friends. “My favorite teacher was Miss Michelle Ross from sophomore year because she demanded your best, was always fair, and I felt like I could go to her if I needed advice,” Kelly said. She had the opportunity to do several ‘ride-alongs’ with police officers that year in District 3 and Kelly knew this is what career path she wanted to take.

She attended the University of Cincinnati, earned an associate’s degree in law enforcement and attended the Cincinnati Police Academy. She is also accredited by Ohio Peace Officer Training Academy. For thirty years, Kelly served as a Cincinnati Police Officer. “I lived my dream!” said Kelly. She was a patrol officer for eight years and then went to a narcotic unit and did undercover work for more than ten years. “I then went to the FBI Drug Task Force for an assignment that lasted five years,” she said. Kelly then returned to the local undercover drug unit.

After her retirement, Kelly knew she wanted to continue to give back. She is now part of the Seton Security Team and knows this is where she is meant to be. “Seton and my parents gave me the foundation and support to build on my dream,” said Kelly, whose daughter, Mary Raker ’21, is also an alum. “I love my job! I’m tasked with keeping the staff, girls and school safe and secure. I monitor the property and handle any requests made by the security team. We also work some after-school and weekend activities.”

Security for these events is also sometimes covered by Ann Lally ’92, who became a Cincinnati police officer in 1999 after graduating from Northern Kentucky University with a Bachelor of Arts in Psychology. Her current job is with District 5, where she has been since 2013. “I work on first shift, and basically when people call 911 for assistance to their situation, I respond,” Ann said. “Most people believe that our job is strictly to enforce the city, state and federal laws, but a police officer’s job encompasses a lot of responsibilities. We serve as counselors to some, a friendly ear to others, we help people who need directions or advice, and we can also give people the feeling of safety just by being nearby,” she added.

Over the years, Ann has also worked with District 2 and District 3. She worked in Youth Services and in District 3’s Neighborhood Unit. “I was a School Resource Officer, or SRO, and was responsible for assisting with the safety of multiple schools on the west side, including Seton. I have attended trainings provided by the FBI, Homeland Security, the ALICE Training Institute and the New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology. I went to these trainings to ensure that I was able to give the schools the best advice on how to handle different threat situations,” explained Ann. “By working in schools, I had the opportunity to work with hundreds of families.”

The connections are what make the job so rewarding. “My favorite part of my job is getting an opportunity to feel like I’ve made a difference. When I was in the lunchroom at an elementary school during the first week of school, and as I walked over to talk to the kindergartners one of the new students climbed under the table. As I bent down to talk to her she said, ‘No! I am afraid of the police!’ I could see the fear in her face, and I told her that I was there to make sure she was safe,” Ann explained. “Because of the relationships that I had previously built with the students, we were able to convince her that I was there to help and not hurt her.” Ann feels that these kinds of relationships build a community. “By the middle of the school year she would run over and give me a hug!”

Looking back on her life, Ann can see what drew her to her career. “Growing up we were always told that your education is something that can’t be taken away from you, and I’ve always looked at education and training as a way to better myself. I saw my parents work extra hours to make sure they could afford my tuition, and I would bring checks to the tuition office to make partial payments,” she said. “At the end of my junior year, I was told that an anonymous donor had paid my tuition for my senior year. It wasn’t until years later after I had started this job and returned to Seton that I learned who that donor was. What an amazing gift to myself and my family,” added Ann, whose police legacy includes her father, three uncles, brother and two cousins. The devotion to community is also a passion shared among these Seton alum police officers.

“I remind myself all the time why we as officers are out there and why we strive to be and do the best that we can,” added Shannon.

“Look around at our wonderful home town, our city, and ask yourself, ‘towards what end?’ The answer is success, prosperity, peace and love for our city, for our home and for all generations to come.”

Named Scholarship

Upon deciding to establish the Bier Family Scholarship, it was clear to Greg and Janie Bier that this was a celebration of the strong history that they have with Seton High School. The family legacy begins with Janie’s mother, Lucille Neiheisel McSorley ’35, and Greg’s mother, Marion Bosse Bier ’43. The legacy carried over to Janie’s daughter, Chrissy Bier Harmon ’98, and most recently to Greg and Janie’s granddaughters, Jossie Bier ’21 and Hannah Bier ’23, and there are two more Future Saints headed this way.

Greg and Janie Bier have always been passionate about Catholic education. Their children all attended Our Lady of Victory for grade school and Elder and Seton for high school: Jim ’90, Tom ’93, Mike ’95 and Chrissy ’98. The Biers have also always been proud and committed Seton supporters. Greg served on Seton’s Foundation Board; and when Chrissy was in high school, Janie Bier was asked to co-chair the first-ever Setonsation. This gala dinner filled with a live and silent auction, raffles, games and entertainment has become a pillar at Seton each year, in addition to being Seton’s largest fundraiser. “I was impressed by the positive response I received from so many loyal Seton families that helped make the event a huge success,” said Janie.

Congratulations to the Class of 2021

Seton High School's 94th commencement exercises looked different again this year due to COVID-19 restrictions. On Saturday, May 15, 2021, the members of the Class of 2021 graduated at Seton High School in four different groups throughout the day. We couldn't be more proud of these young women! Congratulations, Saints!

"Seton High School gave me an unforgettable experience as well as a community full of support. Whether I was taking a test or competing in the pool, the spirit of Seton was always present. Additionally, the passion that each teacher and staff member holds for their job inspires me each and every day and will continue to inspire me in college and beyond."

“Seton has been my home away from home these past four years. I have been challenged to become the best version of myself, and I have grown in faith, academics, leadership and service. The teachers and faculty have done everything possible to prepare me for the future both in and out of the classroom. Seton will always have a special place in my heart.”

MADDY HENSLER '21

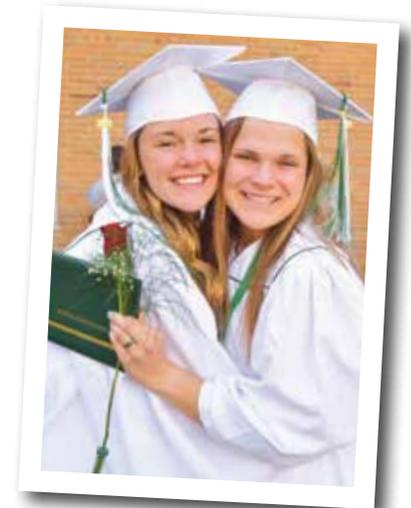

“Seton gave me the opportunity to find my passion: being of service to others. Through the Liberty mission trips and the multiple service opportunities throughout the school year, I found that I love changing people’s lives. I am now able to make decisions that reflect this passion of mine. Because of Seton High School, I am confident going into nursing school next year.”

Seton Spirit

The Seton Saints are Back-to-Back CHAMPIONS of the Girls' Schools Unite campaign and we have YOU to thank!

Wow, thanks to all of YOU, this campaign was a HUGE success! From May 3-7, 2021, Seton High School teamed up with Mercy-McAuley, Mount Notre Dame, St. Ursula and Ursuline to raise awareness and financial support for our individual schools within Cincinnati through the Girls' Schools Unite campaign. This was the second year for this successful campaign and we are so proud to have been the WINNERS both years thanks to our incredible alumnae. We reached out to you all via email, videos, text and social media to generate energy and enthusiasm. We never doubted that our amazing alums would come through. While it feels great to be #1 for the second year, it is even better knowing that our united efforts will benefit current and future Saints. We are honored to be a part of this campaign.

Leadership Camp

We were excited to host Leadership Camp for our current Saints. We discussed the variety of ways in which one can identify as a leader, participated in team building and problem solving activities, learned about the importance of appropriate social media etiquette and utilized the knowledge gained over these two days to set house goals for the 2021-2022 school year. Thanks to these young women for spending their first two days of summer break with us here at Seton, and a shout out to Ms. Marianne Ridiman '72, Mrs. Katie Schmit, Mr. Justin Kohler and Mrs. Erin Burlage Flowers '95 for planning this great opportunity for our student leaders.

The luck of the Irish was with one alum on March 17 when we raffled off a brand new car! Congratulations to the winner of the 2021 Honda Pilot Touring – Lisa Laib Conroy '79!

THANK YOU

to our generous anonymous donor and to everyone who supported our car raffle this year! Thanks to our awesome students who sold chances totaling $160,125.

12 Months of Giveaways

There are still a few months left of this awesome sweepstakes so be sure to keep an eye out each month when we announce the monthly prizes! For $25 per chance, you can win an incredible prize package. Chances are sold all month long and the winner's name is drawn on the first day of the next month along with the announcement of the next month's prize. For more information, go to setoncincinnati.org. Thanks to the generous Seton families and local businesses for donating and supporting this effort. Congratulations to all of our winners so far, and thank you all for your support!

Seton Helping Saints

The Seton Helping Saints board presented a $1,000 donation to a staff member from Dress for Success as this year's Magnified Giving philanthropy recipient. Donations from the club were also given to Pregnancy Center West and St. Vincent de Paul. Throughout the school year, club members learned about and also volunteered at these non-profit organizations!

Thirty-One Women is a unique scholarship made possible by the commitment of 30 women for one student each year. The women have been inspired by the mission of Seton High School and give one young woman the chance to attend Seton on a four-year scholarship. This young woman is chosen to become the Thirty-First Woman and is responsible for the same financial commitment as the other 30 women.

Celebrating 80 years since graduation!

Thank you to Marie Berding Swartzel '41 for sharing some special memories and the importance of her Seton education.

Tell us about the 1941 Seton yearbook you're holding in the picture: "This 1941 yearbook is a symbol of the wonderful years I spent at Seton High School. I was given a good education by the followers of Mother Seton. I made many friends. I took classes in history, religion, math, and many others. Sr. Marie Emmanuel was one of my teachers."

Tell us about the activities you were involved in while at Seton: "As a senior student, I worked on the Editorial Board for the yearbook, was on the Seton Memories staff and participated in the Dramatic Arts. I remember our Dramatic Arts group presented a play to the student body about the life of Mother Seton. During my earlier years at Seton, I was Sophomore Class President, participated in Public Speaking and the Athletic Association. I had perfect attendance as a sophomore and junior student."

Share your favorite Seton memory: "My favorite Seton High School memory was working on the yearbook. We worked every day during a class period and after school. I couldn't stay too late after school because I had to catch the street car to get home."

Talk about the influence of St. Elizabeth Ann Seton at Seton: "Mother Seton was part of our school even though she wasn't physically there. She was always referred to whenever there were concerns or questions. We would say, 'What would Mother Seton do?'"

Explain how your years at Seton helped shape who you are: "God has blessed me in so many ways. I later married and taught school. I am blessed with good children and now have grandchildren and great-grandchildren. I have tried to live my life by the guidelines of Mother Seton."

Giving Our Time and Using Our Gifts

Wherever it may be that alumnae choose to live in this world, Seton High School has prepared them to excel in life, to hear God's voice and to do God's will. Here you can read about a Saint doing amazing things!

Alumnae Spotlight

Cassie Volker Rusche '09

Cassie Volker Rusche '09 and her husband Brian.

When it comes to having an amazing job description, Cassie Volker Rusche '09 has this covered. When it comes to having incredible passion and love for every detail of that same job, hands-down – or should we say ‘fins-down’ – she has that too! As a Research Assistant with Wild Dolphin Project, Cassie spends her time in and out of the water learning, researching and documenting the fascinating lives of Atlantic spotted dolphins.

Cassie has always had a love for animals sparked with curiosity of why they do what they do. “I had always wanted to study animals from a young age, but I wasn’t sure how to get into that field,” she said. It was during an introductory biology class during her freshman year at Northern Kentucky University that the opportunity presented itself. “I wanted to get involved with animal behavior research and saw a job studying parental care behavior in the Carolina Chickadee with a professor at NKU named Dr. Lindsey Walters, so I applied for it,” Cassie explained. “This is where my love for science and research really grew.” She loved the fieldwork and knew she wanted to go on to get her Masters degree. “I worked with Dr. Walters at NKU for two and a half years and helped publish two papers in scientific journals during my undergrad career.”

Prior to her undergrad years, Cassie was a proud Seton Saint who played four years of soccer and excelled academically. “Between soccer and AP classes, I learned time management skills early on,” explained Cassie. “I felt that my teachers really cared about their students and really took the time to help if needed.

I enjoyed the spirit days and pep rallies. Some of those crazy pep rally songs will forever be good memories. Seton was the perfect learning environment. It’s important to mix learning with fun to relieve some of the stress from working hard academically.”

Some of her favorite class time was spent with Mrs. Metz in art. “My course load could be stressful at times and this class was always my relief from that,” she explained. “Mrs. Metz made art relaxing and meditative. She was always happy doing her job and her smile was infectious!” Another favorite class was English. “It was always one of my least favorite classes in grade school, but class with Mr. Collins was different,” she added. “He made me look at literature in a whole new way, and reading is now one of my favorite pastimes.”

Cassie and her husband, Brian Rusche (Elder '09) lived in Florida from 2013-2016 and moved back in 2018 when she began working with Wild Dolphin Project. These days Cassie’s schedule still is full of a mix of hard work and fun, only now it is wrapped up in her career. Her job entails two seasons: off-season and field season.

During the off-season she works at the office in Jupiter, Florida crunching data. “I am responsible for checking all the summer data that we collected and making sure that has been correctly entered into our electronic databases and then update our population census information,” she explained. When she is not working on the databases, she works on mini research projects and pulls data for journal entries or media publications for her boss, Dr. Denise Herzing. Cassie had previously done her master’s thesis work with Dr. Herzing from 2013-2016 and the work was just published in February 2021. The off-season also consists of Cassie talking with schools or nature centers about Wild Dolphin Project and what people can do to help preserve the environment. “Giving these talks and educating young people is what I enjoy most about my off-season work,” she added.

During the summer months of May through September it is the field season. “This is my favorite part of the job!” Cassie said. Throughout these months, she works in the Bahamas collecting data on the Atlantic spotted dolphins who reside in the area. “These summer months consist of about ten trips that are each nine days long,” she explained. “When we are out on a research trip we live on a 62-foot power catamaran called ‘The Stenella’, and we are at sea for the entire nine days. The boat has a built-in kitchen, beds and living areas.”

An average day on the boat consists of dolphin watch from 7:00 a.m. until 8:00 p.m. “We look for dolphins in the research area, and once we have found them we slip into the water to study them,” explained Cassie. “Once we have found a group of dolphins, we suit up in our snorkel gear and slip into the water. Our project has special research permits to get in the water with dolphins. Once we are in the water, we observe their natural behavior and record it on video. We also have a hydrophone to record their vocalizations. In the evenings we watch the dolphin footage and record data, and then we get up the next morning and repeat.”

The team does not touch the dolphins, tag the dolphins, feed the dolphins or harass them in any way. “We record the video from the surface, and because Dr. Herzing has been studying this population for over 35 years, they are habituated to humans,” said Cassie. “They let us see aggression, feeding, courtship and play, and they will even let their calves come and check out the funny humans at the surface.”

Some of Cassie’s favorite interactions with the dolphins is how they play. “They come and check us out, and sometimes they play a game of seaweed keep-away,” she explained. “Seaweed is one of their favorite toys, and they drag it on their pectoral fins and fluke (tail) fins. They drop it back and forth to each other. Sometimes they will let us join in on the game. We will drop some seaweed into the water and they will swoop to pick it up then they will drop it back to us. It’s still shocking that wild animals will engage in a game with us.”

A story that is special to Cassie involves an Atlantic spotted dolphin named Lamda. This dolphin was live-stranded 60 miles from his home in August 2018 and the people that found him sent photos to local groups who studied dolphins to see if anyone could identify him and knew where he came from. “We are able to know them individually based on their unique spot patterns. These spots are as unique as human fingerprints.

I was able to identify him and let the rescuers know that he belongs in the waters around Bimini Island,” said Cassie. “This was vital to getting the permits to release him back into the wild. He was rescued, rehabilitated and released in October 2018, and we have seen Lamda every season since.” He has integrated back into the spotted dolphin population. “It was an awesome experience to be able to put this dolphin back in the wild so that he did not have to live in captivity,” she added.

Cassie’s future goals are to continue to do research, learn and teach others about animals and why they are so important to our world. “I think one of the best ways to help our planet is to spread knowledge,” she said. “Sometimes people just don’t know any better; however, if they’re shown better ways, I believe we can change and make a difference.”

THIRTY-ONE WOMEN

Thirty-One Women is a unique scholarship made possible by the commitment of 30 women for one student each year. The women have been inspired by the mission of Seton High School and give one young woman the chance to attend Seton on a four-year scholarship. This young woman is chosen to become the Thirty-First Woman and is responsible for the same financial commitment as the other 30 women.
